

A volume is a three-dimensional body in a three dimensional Cartesian coordinate system (basic simple volumes are for example spheres, cuboids, cones, cylinders and pyramids).

To get a strong illusion of volumes on a two dimensional surface, it is desirable to employ a suitable projection in addition to shading the volumes consistently according to imagined light sources and utilizing texture to emphasize surface curvature.

From:

<http://pixelwiki.comun.se/> - Pixel Art Historical Society

Permanent link:

<http://pixelwiki.comun.se/doku.php?id=paag:volume>

Last update: 2019/04/07 10:57